

Autumn Newsletter 2018

The exhibition at St. George's Hall went off very well and two paintings were sold. Congratulations go to Gloria Wild and Clive Betts.

Thank you to Karen for organising this exhibition and to the committee members who helped with hanging and taking down paintings. Remaining paintings will be available for collection from Trimpley Hall on September 27th, Appraisal evening.

Ian Ridley's painting was raffled and the new owner is Kevin Harmon.

October 4th is a talk by Steve Riley on WW1 war artists.

Poppy Canvases

All canvases must be returned to Trimpley Hall to Karen on September 27th to allow time for them to be mounted ready for the exhibition at Kidderminster library . They will all be for sale at £5.00 and all money raised will be donated to the Poppy Appeal. You may wish to purchase your own painting by paying the £5.00 set price. John Bodley very kindly donated his appraisal fee back to KAS to start off the donation.

Artists Books

This ongoing project will be finalised in October with the prize giving on 25th October. You can vote for your favourite one and first prize is £25

November

Kas Annual Exhibition. This will be held at Kidderminster library from November 3rd to December 1st. Forms available soon at Trimpley Hall or the website.

November 1st John Instance will be giving a demonstration in watercolour on local scenes

November 15th scraper boards. Yet another free project the committee have organised this year. Scraper boards are another way of creating a piece of art. Come along and have a go. Scraper boards are free to those members who attend the evening.

November 29th Artist Appraisal with Malcolm Brookes

Christmas Celebration will be announced soon

Shelley Waring

Chairman